WHAT WE DO

Our weekly musical theatre afterschool programs offer a vibrant mix of singing, movement, dance, games, and imaginative storytelling! Students will create stories and delve into their emotions, voice, and bodies through engaging play and character building! Through a variety of music activities and drama games, they develop confidence, empathy, teamwork, and valuable life skills.

At the end of the term, students showcase their progress in a mini musical production with characters, lines, and choreography and singing for families to enjoy. If your child loves to use their imagination, dance, and sing, these performance programs are perfect for them!

Every Student will enjoy...

Meet Your Instructors

Miss Queen!

Queen is the Founder and Director of Queen's Academy and has been teaching musical theatre children's programs since 2013. Queen believes all kids can benefit from a performing arts experience which is why she founded Queen's Academy. Queen focuses on building children's confidence, empowering creative expression, and developing life skills through fun activities. Queen holds a Musical Theatre Diploma, and Bachelor of Arts from Capilano University and is pursuing a Bachelor of Education from UBC. When she's not teaching, she can be found on hikes with her dog, eating chocolate, and playing board games!

Miss Julia!

Julia is an actor, singer, and performer with a life-long love of musical theatre. She has recently graduated from the University of British Columbia with a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Acting and is incredibly excited to begin venturing out into the world of theatre and teaching post-graduation. Julia loves sharing her passion for theatre, music, and art, which has led her to many amazing teaching opportunities including UBC Camps, Place des Arts, and local elementary schools. She has had the privilege of learning from many incredible teachers in her life and is very excited to continue the cycle and impact young lives with the gift of Arts Education at Queen's Academy! When Julia is not teaching or performing, she enjoys watching basketball, playing with her dog, and snuggling up with a good book.
